

KCTCS

Created by the Postsecondary Education Improvement Act of 1997, the Kentucky Community and Technical College System is comprised of 16 college districts that provide quality postsecondary education and workforce training. KCTCS colleges are committed to making education more accessible, more relevant and more responsive to the needs of students, employers and communities.

Mission Statement

Elizabethtown Community and Technical College is a comprehensive community and technical college committed to providing quality, affordable, and accessible educational and training opportunities to all persons. The college collaborates with other organizations to provide programs and services that prepare individuals to live and to work in a constantly changing world.

Elizabethtown Community and Technical College offers:

- Associate in Arts and Associate in Science degree programs and courses to provide students with the opportunity to complete the first two years of a baccalaureate degree program.
- Associate in Applied Science and Associate in Applied Technology degree, diploma, and certificate programs, as well as courses to prepare individuals to excel in a complex workforce.
- Continuing education, short-term customized training for business and industry, and activities designed to strengthen the work force and to expand the life skills, knowledge, and cultural enrichment of the community.
- Developmental education courses to prepare individuals for success in transfer and technical courses.

Associated services including library services, cultural and enrichment opportunities, assessments, information technology resources, and other services that support student development and success
